

If your name is Reinhardt you were most likely born with a guitar in your hands.

Supported by two talented young gypsy swing musicians,

David Reinhardt, Django's grandson, offers us his interpretation of his renowned ancestors' works.

Proud of his family heritage, 17 year-old David plays Django and Babik with passion, respect and determination.

This guitar trio has a distinctive identity. Not satisfied with simply accumulating the inherent clichés of manouche jazz it has added the touch of its own period and in so doing adds its own stone to the Reinhardt edifice .

David an get all the number to began THE NEW DJANGO

He is just coming back from Dubai Festival and I have seen his success... 10 minutes of standing ovation....

David has realised his 1st cd on October 2004 as DAVID REINHARDTS TRIO,

I will produce his 2nd CD in Quintet to get out on next november 2005

DAVID REINHARDT quintet

David Reinhardt, guitare

Noé Reinhardt, guitare

Samy Daussat, guitare

Costel Nitescu, violon

Jean Marc Jafet, contrebasse

-

At the moment you can visit this web site, I am working on his own site.

<http://site.voila.fr/sami.daussat/pages/david.htm>